Report on Administrative Measures and Sanctions as well as the Criminal Sanctions available in Member States
under the Market Abuse Directive (MAD)

17 October 2007

Introduction

1. The purpose of this report is to inform the EU Institutions and market participants about the different legal frameworks to apply sanctions and administrative measures under the Market Abuse Directive across the EU.
2. The Market Abuse Directive (MAD) (2003/6/EC) requires Member States 'to ensure, in conformity with their national law, that the appropriate administrative measures can be taken or administrative sanctions be imposed against the persons responsible where the provisions adopted in the implementation of this Directive have not been complied with. Member States shall ensure that these measures are effective, proportionate and dissuasive' (Article 14 para.1).
3. The report provides a picture of the legal consequences available country by country, across the EU, to enforce infringements of the requirements as set out in the Market Abuse Directive. It must be noted that the country reports are a 'snap shot' in time, and are therefore accurate at 17 October 2007. The accuracy of the responses is the sole responsibility of each CESR Member.
4. The development of this Report followed what was initially an internal mapping exercise undertaken in 2005 by CESR Members through its operational working group for co-operation and enforcement (CESR-Pol). The internal mapping exercise sought to identify powers and sanctions in the area of market abuse to inform and assist the development of supervisors' understanding of each others systems.
5. As a result of this initial work, CESR recommended that the European Commission draw up a list of administrative measures and sanctions available to Member States under the MAD to achieve more transparency. In March 2007, the European Commission requested CESR to assist in setting up, for information purposes, a list of administrative sanctions and measures under the MAD, in order to facilitate effective implementation and application of the MAD. A copy of the Commission's letter requesting CESR to undertake this fact-finding exercise is included in this report (p. 4-5).
6. The report lays out each sanctioning power for each single breach of provisions implementing MAD in each country, thus it is particularly long due to its nature, and we therefore strongly recommend that users only print the country chapters of particular interest by using the page numbers indicated in the index on page 6.

Guidance on the common operation of MAD

7. This report complements the work CESR is conducting to provide the market with guidance and information on the common operation of the Directive. The Market Abuse Directive became effective by 12 October 2004 and CESR has issued two sets of guidance to the market: the first one adopted in March 2005 (Ref. CESR/04-505b) focused on Accepted Market Practices (AMP) including formats for the publication of AMPs, and on notification of suspicious transactions. A second set was published on 12 July 2007 (Ref. CESR/06-562b) providing assistance for the assessment of:
 - What constitutes inside information;
 - When is it legitimate to delay the disclosure of inside information;
 - When are client orders inside information; and
 - Insider lists in multiple jurisdictions where CESR members recommended that Competent Authorities recognise an insider list that is maintained in accordance with the rules of another CESR member.
8. A work programme (Ref. CESR/07-416) identifying further areas for guidance, where appropriate, has been published on 26 July 2007.

Monitoring convergent implementation of MAD

9. This report should also be seen in the context of CESR's efforts to monitor the extent of equivalence of supervisory powers across Europe under the Market Abuse Directive striving towards a more convergent application of the requirements stipulated therein. For further information you may wish to read the correspondence table on the Market Abuse Directive (Ref. CESR/07-382) published on 21 June 2007. This illustrated through a tick box approach what supervisory powers CESR Members hold and how they are exercised. Furthermore in a report also published on 21 June 2007, which includes an executive summary, CESR described its Members' supervisory powers under the Market Abuse Directive and the relevant implementing measures (Ref. CESR/07-380). The report not only assessed the attribution of the powers to CESR Members, but also considered the ability to issue practical rules; the general powers provided to CESR Members to apply the Directives; the co-operation powers of each Member and an assessment of supervisory practices. An overview report (Ref. CESR /07-334b) which included a high level analysis of the findings in relation to both MAD and the Prospectus Directive, was also submitted to the FSC, alongside the detailed findings on the MAD itself.

Subject: Market Abuse Directive/List of administrative measures and sanctions

Kurt, Fabrice

Dear Mr. Pribil, Mr. Demarigny,

Following the discussion at the last CESR-Pol meeting in December 2006 and the subsequent ESC meeting on 14 February 2007, I would like to ask you to advise us on setting up a list of administrative sanctions and measures under the Market Abuse Directive (MAD).

The Commission services of DG Markt intend to draw up, for information, a list of administrative sanctions and measures to facilitate effective implementation and application of the MAD. Moreover, while Member States are free to decide what sanctions they choose, a transparency exercise to inform market participants about the different administrative legal frameworks across the EU would be helpful to establish a more effective and consistent use of administrative measures and sanctions across the EU. The Commission welcomes in this respect CESR-Pol's work on a database collecting the competent authorities' decisions in relation to market abuse violations.

The fact-finding report from CESR should make clear which administrative measures and sanctions are used in each Member State in case of violation of the provisions of the MAD. It would also be useful to know whether any competent authority has delegated the imposition of measures and sanctions to other authorities and whether administrative supervision is combined with criminal prosecution of market abuse violations.

At the last ESC meeting, Member States welcomed this transparency exercise on the administrative enforcement of the MAD. Considering the CESR Review Panel has already done a mapping exercise on CESR members' powers under the MAD and its implementing measures, I hope CESR will be able to produce a report by mid July 2007. This would allow us to finalise the list of administrative measures and sanctions in the course of this year.

General questions:

- A. Please describe the interrelation of administrative and criminal procedure: Where applicable, please describe whether there is an option for imposing administrative measures and/or administrative sanctions or submission of the case to the public prosecutor and how it is exercised in practice. In addition please describe the possibility for applying for the same case both administrative measures/sanctions and criminal sanctions

AUSTRIA - FMA

Answer A: In Austrian law administrative and criminal procedure are separate kinds of penal procedures. They can nevertheless be interlinked. The grade of interrelation depends on the procedural rules applicable in a certain field. For example in insider dealing cases this relation is very close. The FMA is responsible for the investigation of insider dealing cases which it then submits to the public prosecutor. During the criminal process the FMA is a privileged party to the proceeding. The FMA is the primary means of the criminal court to further investigate the case and has the following special rights: continue prosecuting a case in lieu of the public prosecutor, be present in all stages of the procedure, get all the information about the case and a right to appeal the criminal courts' decisions. The extent administrative and criminal sanctions can be applied to a certain case can only be evaluated on a norm by norm basis. The general limit in this respect is in any case Art 4 of the 7. Additional Protocol of the ECHR.

B. Please describe the criteria for imposing administrative and / or criminal sanctions: Where applicable, please specify the criteria for applying only administrative measures/sanctions, and/or referring the case to the public prosecutor.

Answer B: The law has to describe the elements of criminal and administrative offences in detail. In administrative penal law proceedings a sanction can only be imposed if it can be proved that all the facts described in the administrative penal norm are fulfilled. Additionally, all the subjective elements (intent, negligence) prescribed in the norm have to be fulfilled and proved before administrative sanctions can be imposed. If no subjective elements are explicitly mentioned in a certain administrative penal norm reckless behaviour is sufficient for the imposition of administrative sanctions. Also with regard to criminal offences all subjective and objective elements described in a criminal norm have to be fulfilled and proved by the competent criminal court. If it is not mentioned explicitly in a norm that reckless behaviour is sufficient for criminal punishment only intentional actions are sanctioned under criminal law. In the course of the execution of their duties administrative agencies have to inform the criminal authorities of their suspicions with regard to contraventions of criminal law.

General questions:

- A. Please describe the interrelation of administrative and criminal procedure: Where applicable, please describe whether there is an option for imposing administrative measures and/or administrative sanctions or submission of the case to the public prosecutor and how it is exercised in practice. In addition please describe the possibility for applying for the same case both administrative measures/sanctions and criminal sanctions.
- Article 73. Any administrative fine that is imposed by the CBFA on a person and that has become definitive before the criminal judge has made a definitive pronouncement on the same or related facts shall be imputed to the amount of any penal fine that is imposed for those facts in respect of that same person.
- B. Please describe the criteria for imposing administrative and / or criminal sanctions: Where applicable, please specify the criteria for applying only administrative measures/sanctions, and/or referring the case to the public prosecutor.
- The logic of the MAD is to impose administrative sanctions instead of penal sanctions. Currently the CBFA has no written criteria in order to determine the size of financial penalties.

For the purpose of prevention and discontinuance of administrative offences under the Act adopted in the implementation of the MAD, prevention and elimination of their adverse effects, as well as where the exercise of control activity by the Commission or the Vice Chairperson in charge of the Supervision of Investment Activity Division with the Commission is impeded or the interests of investors are jeopardized, the Vice Chairperson may:

1. issue mandatory prescriptions for taking specific measures needed to remove the offences, their adverse effects or the threat to the interests of investors within a time limit set thereby;
2. discontinue for a certain period or definitively the trade in given financial instruments;
3. demand attachment over property;
4. obligate the issuer to disclose the insider information within a time limit set thereby;
5. withdraw temporarily (suspend) the license of an investment intermediary for pursuance of business or request the Bulgarian National Bank to withdraw temporarily the authorization of a bank to pursue business as an investment intermediary.

The Vice Chairperson may propose to the Bulgarian National Bank to withdraw definitively a bank's license to pursue business as an investment intermediary, if the relevant entity systematically violates the provisions of this Act or its implementing instruments (i.e. Ordinances issued by the Commission on the basis of the power to enact acts of the secondary legislation delegated by the Act). The proceedings for imposing administrative measures are initiated by the Vice Chairperson.

Finally, the Commission as a collective body may permanently withdraw (revoke) the license issued to an investment intermediary in case of violation by the latter of Art. 11 of the Act (which generally prohibits market manipulations) or in case of a grave violation or of systematic violations of the Act or its implementing instruments.

The Commission shall publish the approved market practices in its official Bulletin and in another appropriate way. The Commission has adopted Ordinance No 37 from 29 November 2006 on the Recognition of the Accepted Market Practices.

General questions:

- A. Please describe the interrelation of administrative and criminal procedure: Where applicable, please describe whether there is an option for imposing administrative measures and/or administrative sanctions or submission of the case to the public prosecutor and how it is exercised in practice. In addition please describe the possibility for applying for the same case both administrative measures /sanctions and criminal sanctions.

The Law on Insider Dealing and Market Manipulation (Market Abuse) of 2005 (“the Market Abuse Law”) stipulates administrative and criminal sanctions regarding:

- i. Prohibited actions of persons possessing inside information-s 9, Part II of the Market Abuse Law
- ii. Prohibition to the issuer from providing false or misleading information within the framework of compliance with its obligation to publicize inside information which directly concerns him-s 11(2), Part III of the Market Abuse Law, and
- iii. Acts of market manipulation-s 20, Part IV of the Market Abuse Law.

Sections 10, 15 and 23 of the Market Abuse Law, provide for administrative fines for breaches of the above provisions. Further, they state that, irrespective of the provisions providing for administrative penalties, violations of the above sections constitute criminal offences punishable by imprisonment or by a fine or by both of these penalties.

The Cyprus Securities and Exchange Commission (“the Commission”) is the competent authority responsible for the application of the provisions of the Market Abuse Law and the imposition of administrative sanctions (sections 48(1), 10, 15 and 23 of the Market Abuse Law). The relevant provisions of the Cyprus Securities and Exchange Commission (Establishment and Responsibilities) Laws (“the CySEC Law”), concerning the supervisory competency of the CySEC and its ability to impose administrative sanctions, apply also for the purposes of application and supervision of the Market Abuse Law (section 48(4) Market Abuse Law).

Section 36 of the CySEC Law, states that if CySEC, from the information before it, ascertains the possibility of a breach of the legislation concerning the capital market (which includes the Market Abuse Law), shall act as follows:

- (a) In case the potential violation may prima facie constitute a criminal offence, the Commission draws up its findings and submits them to the Attorney General of the Republic, who decides from the documents before him whether criminal liability arises to justify the criminal prosecution of the person responsible and or

- (b) It shall itself take charge of the case and decide whether it is justified to impose an administrative fine

It should be noted that the Attorney General of the Republic is solely responsible for the institution of criminal proceedings in the Republic of Cyprus – it is the equivalent to the public prosecutors office. CySEC has no authority to institute criminal proceedings or impose criminal sanctions, but only refer cases giving rise to possible criminal offences to the Attorney General.

Clearly, therefore, the CySEC Law provides CySEC with the following options regarding possible violations of the Market Abuse Law:

- Impose administrative measures by CySEC pursuant to the procedure specified in the CySEC Law
- Refer the case to the Attorney General of the Republic ,
- Impose administrative sanctions and additionally refer the case to the Attorney General of the Republic .

- B. Please describe the criteria for imposing administrative and / or criminal sanctions: Where applicable, please specify the criteria for applying only administrative measures/ sanctions, and/or referring the case to the public prosecutor.

CYPRUS - CSEC

CySEC has no authority to impose criminal sanctions. The criteria used for the imposition of administrative sanctions, include:

- a) The need to induce compliance of the offender with the law.
 - b) The seriousness of the offence.
 - c) Whether there is a case of repeated violation: In these cases the maximum administrative fine that CySEC may impose is twice as that applicable in the cases of a single violation.
 - d) If it is proven that the person responsible for the violation has obtained gain as a result of it, which gain exceeds the administrative fines for a single and repeated violation, CySEC has the power to impose administrative fines of up to double the amount of the gain that the person responsible for the violation has been proven to have gained as a result of the violation.
 - e) The motives of the offender.
 - f) Whether there has been any co-operation of the offender with CySEC for the investigation of the offence, or volunteering of information.
 - g) The propensity of the offence and the need for offender-specific or general deterrence.
- Regarding the criteria for referring the case to the Attorney General, please see above.

General questions:

- A. In addition please describe the possibility for applying for the same case both administrative measures/sanctions and criminal sanctions.

Reply: In more serious cases, criminal proceedings are started instead of administrative proceedings. Criminal proceedings offer additional investigative instruments, but only natural persons are criminally liable. In case of criminal proceedings, administrative sanction steps aside. CNB cooperates with criminal authorities during investigation, but without any formal participation in the proceedings.

- B. Please describe the criteria for imposing administrative and / or criminal sanctions: Where applicable, please specify the criteria for applying only administrative measures/sanctions, and/or referring the case to the public prosecutor.

Reply: As mentioned above, it is usually sufficient to start administrative proceedings, which are generally faster than criminal procedure. Some cases have been handed over to criminal authorities, but no specific criteria are set.

In addition please describe the possibility for applying for the same case both administrative measures/sanctions and criminal sanctions.

Under the Estonian regulations, if the act in question contains elements of a criminal offence, the EFSA must submit the case to the public prosecutor for criminal proceedings. However, if the criminal proceedings are not commenced, e.g. for reasons of expediency, then in principle the EFSA may start misdemeanor proceedings (provided that the case contains the elements of a misdemeanor) and apply administrative sanctions. Parallel application of administrative measures (e.g. EFSA's precept and monetary penalty if the person does not comply with it) and criminal proceedings is possible as the purpose of EFSA's administrative measures is to prevent a situation or act of violation with the securities market regulations or restore the situation prior to the violation, whereas the purpose of criminal sanctions is to punish the persons for the violations.

B. Please describe the criteria for imposing administrative and / or criminal sanctions: Where applicable, please specify the criteria for applying only administrative measures/sanctions, and/or referring the case to the public prosecutor.

Please see the answer to the previous question. Both criminal and misdemeanor proceedings may be terminated for reasons of expediency.

Draft changes in the Securities Market Act (expected to come into force in November 2007)

According to the draft changes to the existing Securities Market Act, all administrative sanctions for violations of the Securities Market Act will be increased from the current maximum of 50 000 EFK to maximum of 500 000 EFK. According to the draft changes, administrative sanctions will be available for misuse of inside information. Therefore, cases of dealing based on inside information, and “tipping” will have to be sent to the public prosecutor for criminal proceedings, and disclosure of inside information is sanctioned by the EFSA under misdemeanor proceedings. Also, the draft changes provide for administrative sanctions for market abuse. Therefore, market abuse by certain persons (please see the respective answer in the questionnaire) will be prosecuted in criminal proceedings, whereas sanctions for market abuse by others will fall under the authority of the EFSA.

questions:

- A. Please describe the interrelation of administrative and criminal procedure: Where applicable, please describe whether there is an option for imposing administrative measures and/or administrative sanctions or submission of the case to the public prosecutor and how it is exercised in practice. In addition please describe the possibility for applying for the same case both administrative measures/sanctions and criminal sanctions.

In Finland both the criminal and administrative sanctions are applicable in market abuse cases. Criminal sanctions are defined in the Penal Code and administrative sanctions in the Act on the Financial Supervision Authority. If there is a reason to suspect that misconduct involves a breach of criminal law, the criminal procedure has to be commenced. So in these cases FIN-FSA refers the case to the police for criminal investigation. There is no much of option provided in the law in this matter. The FIN-FSA has a discretion only if a case in question is clear and minor one and hence FIN-FSA can issue administrative sanction instead of referring the case to the criminal investigation. However, in practice, the discretion power of the FIN-FSA in "borderline" cases takes into consideration factors like e.g. the amount of money used in abusive transaction, the deterrent effect of the available sanctions and the likelihood of criminal prosecution and conviction. Because of "ne bis in idem" - principle, it is a basic rule not to apply for the same case both administrative sanction and criminal sanction. However, if the administrative sanction is lenient, it might be possible. There are no exact rules in our legislation concerning this matter.

- B. Please describe the criteria for imposing administrative and / or criminal sanctions: Where applicable, please specify the criteria for applying only administrative measures/sanctions, and/or referring the case to the public prosecutor.

General questions:

- A. Please describe the interrelation of administrative and criminal procedure: Where applicable, please describe whether there is an option for imposing administrative measures and/or administrative sanctions or submission of the case to the public prosecutor and how it is exercised in practice. In addition please describe the possibility for applying for the same case both administrative measures/ sanctions and criminal sanctions.

France has regime whereby a market abuse case can be separately subject to either administrative measures/ sanctions, or criminal proceedings or both. Consequently, when the AMF board examines the AMF investigation report, it :

- may decide to launch administrative proceedings,
- may decide to launch administrative proceedings while also referring the case to the Public Prosecutor if a legal offence or crime has been identified;
- or
- only refer the case to the public prosecutor if a legal offence or crime has been identified.

B. Please describe the criteria for imposing administrative and / or criminal sanctions:
Where applicable, please specify the criteria for applying only administrative measures/ sanctions, and/or referring the case to the public prosecutor.

With respect to administrative sanctions :

The amount of the pecuniary administrative sanction must be commensurate with the seriousness of the breaches committed and any advantages or profits derived from those breaches. The AMF's policy regarding the setting of financial penalties is mainly determined on a case by case basis and then takes into account various criteria such as the nature of the violation (market abuses/regulatory disregard) the kind of person involved (an individual or a company), its solvency, the profit realised, if the violation is deliberate, etc...

Referral to criminal authorities :

The AMF mandatorily refers a case to the criminal authority when the facts match with the criminal criteria of existence of a precise criminal provision, sufficient materiality and intent .

When the AMF has imposed pecuniary sanction which has become final before the criminal judge has given a final ruling on the same facts or related facts, the latter may order that the financial penalty be set off against the fine he imposes (L 621-16 COMOFF)

- A. Please describe the interrelation of administrative and criminal procedure: Where applicable, please describe whether there is an option for imposing administrative measures and/or administrative sanctions or submission of the case to the public prosecutor and how it is exercised in practice. In addition please describe the possibility for applying for the same case both administrative measures/sanctions and criminal sanctions.

Regarding the administrative measures and sanctions there is a differentiation between administrative action aimed at remedying a particular infringement and administrative action aimed at imposing sanctions (possibly) the same infringement. Furthermore, administrative and criminal procedures are separated regarding the applicable procedural law and the respective “original” competence to conduct the procedure and impose measures and/or sanctions. The application of either an administrative or criminal procedure depends on the (potential) violation of the respective provision of the MAD mandating the legal consequence of an infringement according to that provision. The respective legal provisions transposing the MAD distinguish clearly between penal offences and offences which are linked to administrative pecuniary provisions. Where there is a continuous infringement, administrative measures can be applied to cease infringements, regardless whether a sanctioning has to follow criminal or administrative procedures.

The BaFin must immediately report facts giving rise to suspicion of a criminal offence to the competent public prosecutor's office. It may communicate to the public prosecutor's office the personal data of any persons suspected of the offence or persons who may be required to act as witnesses, to the extent that this is necessary for criminal prosecution. The public prosecutor's office shall decide on the necessary investigatory measures to be pursued, especially with regard to searches, in accordance with the provisions of the German Code of Criminal Procedure. The powers of the Supervisory Authority regarding those provisions according to the MAD which do not result in a criminal procedure shall remain unaffected, to the extent that this is necessary for the implementation of administrative measures or the fulfilment of requests by foreign agencies and if this does not present a threat to the purpose of investigations by prosecuting authorities or the courts responsible for criminal cases.

B. Please describe the criteria for imposing administrative and / or criminal sanctions: Where applicable, please specify the criteria for applying only administrative measures/ sanctions, and/or referring the case to the public prosecutor.

The criteria are deduced from the elements of the respective provisions of the MAD. E.g. insider dealing according to art. 2 MAD mandates criminal sanctions and has therefore to be prosecuted according to criminal procedural law by the public prosecutor whereas e.g. market manipulation has to be prosecuted according to administrative provisions by BaFin according to the Securities Trading Act if there is no impact on the exchange or market price. Cases are referred to the public prosecutor if there is a connection to some criminal offence. Criminal prohibitions require the element of intent and explicit culpability of negligence and attempt. Criminal as well as administrative sanctions are imposed on a case-by-case basis.

General questions:

A. Please describe the interrelation of administrative and criminal procedure: Where applicable, please describe whether there is an option for imposing administrative measures and/or administrative sanctions or submission of the case to the public prosecutor and how it is exercised in practice. In addition please describe the possibility for applying for the same case both administrative measures/sanctions and criminal sanctions.

Answer:

A. The Greek legislation provides an option for imposing administrative measures and/or administrative sanctions or submission of the case to the public prosecutor. The Board of Directors of the HCMC decides on whether a case should be also submitted to the public prosecutor for imposing criminal sanctions on a case by case basis, according to the proposal made by the relevant department of the HCMC. There is the possibility for applying for the same case both administrative measures and administrative sanctions as well as criminal sanctions.

General question:

B. Please describe the criteria for imposing administrative and / or criminal sanctions: Where applicable, please specify the criteria for applying only administrative measures/sanctions, and/or referring the case to the public prosecutor.

Answer:

- B. There are not any specific criteria for imposing only administrative measures / sanctions or referring the case to the public prosecutor. However there are several factors which are taken into account while the Board of Directors of the HCMC takes the decision for the imposition of fines. These factors include the value of the illegal transactions, the illegal profit, the effect to the smooth operation of the market, the cooperation of the company with the HCMC and the relapse of the offence.

General questions:

A. Please describe the interrelation of administrative and criminal procedure: Where applicable, please describe whether there is an option for imposing administrative measures and/or administrative sanctions or submission of the case to the public prosecutor and how it is exercised in practice. In addition please describe the possibility for applying for the same case both administrative measures/sanctions and criminal sanctions.

The public administrative procedure usually precedes in time the criminal procedure. If the administrative procedure ends up with the HFSA's saying that the act under investigation constituted insider dealing or market manipulation, the HFSA decides whether to refer the matter to the criminal authorities. Referring the case to the criminal authorities does not prevent the HFSA from imposing administrative fine on the subject of the procedure.

B. Please describe the criteria for imposing administrative and / or criminal sanctions: Where applicable, please specify the criteria for applying only administrative measures/sanctions, and/or referring the case to the public prosecutor.

The HFSA determines the sum of administrative fine and the administrative measures based on the following criteria:
seriousness of the breach, impact of the act on the market, damages caused by the act, the gained profit, cooperation of the subject in the administrative procedure, the bona fide/mala fide of the subject in committing the act, if the subject act as a professional person, etc. The HFSA refers the matter to the police, if the suspicion about a criminal crime arises. In practice it means that if there are signs that the act was committed with intention.

General questions:

- A. Please describe the interrelation of administrative and criminal procedure: Where applicable, please describe whether there is an option for imposing administrative measures and/or administrative sanctions or submission of the case to the public prosecutor and how it is exercised in practice. In addition please describe the possibility for applying for the same case both administrative measures/sanctions and criminal sanctions.

The FSA has the authority to levy administrative fines if a supervised party violates certain provisions of the Securities Act no. 33/2003. In case of major violations, the FSA decides whether the case should be sent to the national commissioner of the police. That is always a question of assessment of each case by the FSA. There is not a possibility for the same case to be applied with administrative and criminal sanctions due to the beforementioned rule. The FSA has only experience with the execution of sanctions in the case of violations of notifications of insider transactions since the authority to apply administrative sanctions to other kinds of violations was just established in April 2007.

- B. Please describe the criteria for imposing administrative and / or criminal sanctions: Where applicable, please specify the criteria for applying only administrative measures/ sanctions, and/or referring the case to the public prosecutor.

General questions:

- A. Please describe the interrelation of administrative and criminal procedure: Where applicable, please describe whether there is an option for imposing administrative measures and/or administrative sanctions or submission of the case to the public prosecutor and how it is exercised in practice. In addition please describe the possibility for applying for the same case both administrative measures/sanctions and criminal sanctions.

Where the Financial Regulator has information leading it to suspect that a criminal offence has been committed by a supervised entity, it is under an obligation to report same to the relevant law enforcement agency, ie the Gardai, the Office of the Director of Corporate Enforcement etc.

Breaches of the criminal law committed by a person who is subject to Market Abuse Regulations, for which the Financial Regulator may initiate a summary conviction, may now also be a contravention which is subject to administrative sanctions.

The Financial Regulator may impose a sanction via the Administrative Sanctions Procedure (the ASP) in addition to bringing a criminal prosecution itself or a prosecution being brought by another body or agency. However, certain restrictions apply in circumstances where both a criminal prosecution and administrative sanctions are possible. No criminal prosecution may be brought if the ASP leads to the imposition of a monetary penalty.

B. Please describe the criteria for imposing administrative and / or criminal sanctions: Where applicable, please specify the criteria for applying only administrative measures/sanctions, and/or referring the case to the public prosecutor.

The decision to take enforcement action will be determined on a case by case basis, taking into account the full circumstances of each case. As component parts of any decision to take enforcement action, the following objectives will be considered:

The enforcement action should promote compliance by person, and its management; The enforcement action should be proportionate, and likely to support the economic, efficient and effective pursuit of the strategic objectives of the Financial Regulator.

In the measure imposing pecuniary administrative sanctions, Consob, taking into account the seriousness of the violation and the degree of fault, may order authorized intermediaries, market management companies, listed issuers and auditing firms not to use the offender in the exercise of their activities for a period of not more than three years and ask the competent professional associations to suspend the registrant from practice of the profession. General questions:

- A. Please describe the interrelation of administrative and criminal procedure: Where applicable, please describe whether there is an option for imposing administrative measures and/or administrative sanctions or submission of the case to the public prosecutor and how it is exercised in practice. In addition please describe the possibility for applying for the same case both administrative measures/sanctions and criminal sanctions.

Administrative procedure and criminal procedure are independent and could run in parallel. Pursuant to Art. 187 decies upon receiving notice of the commission of a crime under Chapter II, the public prosecutor shall without delay inform the Chairman of Consob thereof. The Chairman of Consob shall forward the public prosecutor the documentation gathered during its own inquiries accompanied by a reasoned report in cases where there are grounds for suspecting that a crime may have been committed. The documents shall be forwarded to the public prosecutor at the very latest within the time limit for investigating violations of Chapter III of this title. The opening of a criminal proceeding does not suspend the administrative proceeding. Art. 187 duodecies states that the administrative and appeal proceedings carried our by Consob may not be suspended on the grounds that criminal proceedings are pending covering the same facts or facts on which the definition of the case depends. Pursuant to Art. 187 terdecies when a pecuniary administrative sanction has been imposed by Consob on the offender or the entity for the same facts which are the subject of the criminal proceeding, the collection of the pecuniary penalty deriving from the crime shall be limited to the portion thereof exceeding what the Consob has collected. In proceedings for crimes under Articles 184 (insider) and 185 (manipulation), Consob may exercise the rights and powers granted by the Criminal Procedure Code to the bodies and associations representing the interests injured by the crime. Consob may also intervene as a civil claimant and request, by way of compensation for the loss occasioned to the integrity of the market by the crime, damages in an amount to be assessed by the court, including equitably, taking account of the seriousness of the crime, the personal situation of the guilty party or the amount of the proceeds of the crime or the profit therefrom.

Consob and the judicial authorities must cooperate with each other, including through the exchange of information, in order to facilitate the investigation of violations of legislation implementing MAD, including in cases where such do not constitute crimes. To this end Consob may utilize the documents, data and information obtained by the Finance Police in the manner and form established in the applicable legislation see above. The definition of the illicit behaviour are slightly different and the criminal prohibitions require the element of the "intent". As outlined above the proceedings can run in parallel. However the prosecutor, unless it has received the notice of the crime from Consob must request, before moving forward with the criminal procedure a report from Consob. Consob will refer cases to the public prosecutor when there is furmus that a crime has been committed. Since as explained above the cooperation between Consob and the prosecutor is provided for also for cases of administrative violation Consob can discuss about the qualification of a case. As outlined, a report to the prosecutor does not half the administrative procedure carried out by Consob.

⁵ The sanctions indicated are determined by the Law of Civil Service. If the breach of professional secrecy is done by the employer of the LSC, the sanctions are imposed by the LSC itself. In the case, the breach of professional secrecy is done by the employer of another authority that LSC cooperates with, the sanctions are imposed by another authority.

A. Please describe the interrelation of administrative and criminal procedure: Where applicable, please describe whether there is an option for imposing administrative measures and/ or administrative sanctions or submission of the case to the public prosecutor and how it is exercised in practice. In addition please describe the possibility for applying for the same case both administrative measures/ sanctions and criminal sanctions.

Administrative sanctions and measures are applied if the infringement of legal acts and the rules is not serious (severe) and is minor. The case will be submitted to the public prosecutor, when the actions committed by the offender will lie under the rules of criminal code. The main criteria is the amount of loss and material damage.

The situation, when both administrative and criminal sanctions will be applied is not possible, as there is a common principle, that for the same infringement only one type of sanction (administrative or criminal) should be applied.

B. Please describe the criteria for imposing administrative and / or criminal sanctions: Where applicable, please specify the criteria for applying only administrative measures/sanctions, and/or referring the case to the public prosecutor.

The decision to apply administrative or criminal sanction will be reached according to:

- 1) the amount of the loss suffered due to the violation;
- 2) the duration of the violation;
- 3) the amount of illegal proceeds the person gained from the violation;
- 4) aggravating and attenuating circumstances

Actions by which the suspect impedes the investigation, conceals the violation, continues illegal acts in spite of an order to discontinue them and repeats a violation for which a penalty prescribed in the Law on Markets in Financial Instruments has been imposed shall be considered aggravating circumstances. Actions of the suspect taken of his own free will in order to prevent the detrimental effects of the violation, to assist the Securities Commission in carrying out the investigation, to compensate for the losses or to undo the damage shall be considered attenuating circumstances. The Securities Commission may decide to deem other circumstances not specified therein as attenuating as well.

In addition please describe the possibility for applying for the same case both administrative measures/ sanctions and criminal sanctions.

In Luxembourg, both administrative measures / sanctions as well as criminal sanctions can be inflicted. The administrative fine inflicted by the CSSF will be deduced from the criminal fine in order to respect the principle not be sanctioned twice for the same offence. If the CSSF discovers that there is a criminal offence against the market abuse law, the CSSF is obliged to transmit the file to the Public Prosecutor. This does not impede the competencies of the CSSF to inflict the administrative measures and sanctions within its competencies as provided for in the market abuse law.

B. Please describe the criteria for imposing administrative and / or criminal sanctions: Where applicable, please specify the criteria for applying only administrative measures/ sanctions, and/ or referring the case to the public prosecutor.

The criteria is the intent. If the person has committed intentionnally an infringement against the insider dealing (art.2-4 MAD) or against the market manipulation prohibitions, the file has to be transmitted to the Public Prosecutor. Both administrative measures and sanctions can be inflicted. When there is no intent, only administrative measures /sanctions will be inflicted.

Explanatory Note; MAD and the implementing commission directives have been transposed by means of the Prevention of Financial Market Abuse Act (PFMA) and the following 3 regulations issued by the Minister under the Act. These came into force on the 1st April 2005: (a) L.N. 108 of 2005 as amended - Prevention of Financial Markets Abuse (Disclosure and Notification) Regulations, 2005; (b) L.N.106 of 2005 - Prevention of Financial Markets Abuse (Fair Presentation of Investment Recommendations and Disclosure of Conflicts of Interest) Regulations, 2005; and (c) L.N. 107 of 2005 - Prevention of Financial Markets Abuse (Market Practices and Manipulative Behaviour) Regulations, 2005 and partly through the Listing Rules (LR) which apply to listed companies. Both the PFMA and the LR are administered by the Malta Financial Services Authority (MFSA).

Administrative pecuniary measures and criminal sanctions

Administrative pecuniary sanctions may be applied against any breach of the Act (article 22 (1) of the PFMA . On the other hand criminal sanctions may only be applied against specified breaches (article 24 of the PFMA).One can possibly distinguish the two forms of sanctions in accordance with these respective criteria:

Administrative fines would be characterized:

- by the relatively smaller amounts (only up to LM 40,000 (approx. 93,200 Euros) or whatever and not including imprisonment),
- by the role of the Competent Authority which alone imposes the fine
- by the possibility of an appeal to the Financial Services Tribunal

- by the non-intervention of the Attorney General in the process

Criminal sanctions would be distinguished:

- by the requirement of the Attorney General's approval to authorize proceedings
- by the non-involvement of the Competent Authority
- by the applicability of the criminal law, procedure and relative appeals

Article 22(5) of the PFMA states that the imposition of an administrative penalty does not preclude the institution of criminal or civil proceedings. It also provides that where in respect of a specific act of default, which also amounts to a breach of a criminal provision, an administrative fine has already been imposed by the competent authority, no other criminal measure can be imposed in respect of the same act or omission. This new Article attempts to resolve potential legal questions arising from the ne bis in idem or double jeopardy rule. It seeks to guard the competent authority against breaching this principle.

Other measures

Administrative measures as specified in article 17 of the PFMA may be applied in the case of any breach of the Act and against any person not only licence holders. Article 17 should be considered in its entirety because its provisions are quite extensive. These administrative measures may be applied in conjunction with an administrative pecuniary sanction or a criminal sanction.

Attachment orders (article 18 of the PFMA) and freezing orders (article 19 of the PFMA) may be applied in all instances where there are breaches of provisions of the Act that could lead to criminal sanctions.

Freezing orders may also be applied in the case of breaches of provisions of the Act that could give rise to an administrative pecuniary sanction only.

- B. Please describe the criteria for imposing administrative and / or criminal sanctions: Where applicable, please specify the criteria
- for applying only administrative measures/sanctions, and/or referring the case to the public prosecutor.

When there is an option as to whether to apply an administrative pecuniary sanction or whether to prosecute criminally this will depend upon the circumstances of the case and the facts. The law does not provide for any mechanism to determine which route to take. One suggests that where a particular breach is identified and pursued by police authorities autonomously that will lead to the likelihood that criminal sanctions will be applied although in practice probably the police authorities will consult the MFSA. It may be broadly stated that in practice criminal sanctions will probably be more applied to breaches of acts which are serious, have caused harm to investors and have manifested a clear intention to defraud/bad faith

General questions:

- A. Please describe the interrelation of administrative and criminal procedure: Where applicable, please describe whether there is an option for imposing administrative measures and/or administrative sanctions or submission of the case to the public prosecutor and how it is exercised in practice. In addition please describe the possibility for applying for the same case both administrative measures/ sanctions and criminal sanctions.

Administrative pecuniary measures and criminal sanctions

Administrative pecuniary sanctions may only be applied against violations of the Financial Supervision Act mentioned in de Decree on administrative fines Wft. Criminal sanctions on the other hand may also only be applied against specified breaches of the Financial Supervision Act (see article 1, under 2° of the Act on economic offenses, WED). Since both the administrative pecuniary sanctions and the criminal sanctions are considered to be punitive sanctions, it is not possible to impose both sanctions for the same violations ('ura via-principle'). This means a choice has to be made on beforehand. For this purpose the AFM and the Public Prosecutor have drawn up a memorandum of understanding which deals with this matter. In practice, there is a meeting once a month in which these cases are discussed as well as the settlement of the case. It is also possible to discuss cases bilateral in case of urgency.

Other measures

The imposition of a penal sum and publication of the imposition after the penal sum has become forfeited can be applied in those cases mentioned in the enclosure to article 1:79 of the Financial Supervision Act (for the specific articles see the table on the sanctions). In principle the penal sum can be imposed to the addressee of the article, which can be the issuing institution, the exchange or any person. This is not a punitive measure, which means that it can be applied in combination with a punitive sanction (i.e. an administrative pecuniary sanction, criminal sanction or a public warning). The public warning can be applied in case a prohibitory clause has been violated (i.e. the prohibition of insider trading, the prohibition of market manipulation and the prohibition of tipping and disclosing inside information to third parties). The public warning contains the name of the person as well as the stipulation that has been violated. (please note that this measure has not been applied yet with respect to violation of MAD-stipulations, because of the severity and the impact of the violation; most of the time violations of these MAD prohibitory clauses are dealt with through criminal proceedings and occasionally through an administrative pecuniary measures. The AFM can also give the holder of a regulated market an instruction to suspend, interrupt or cancel trading in certain financial instruments where an issuer as meant in Section 5:59 (1) does not comply with the provisions under Section 5:59 (1 or 5). The instruction states either that as from a certain time the trading in a specific share is to be suspended e.g. awaiting a press release, or that transactions that have been carried out in a specific share in a specific time frame need to be cancelled

- B. Please describe the criteria for imposing administrative and / or criminal sanctions: Where applicable, please specify the criteria for applying only administrative measures/ sanctions, and/or referring the case to the public prosecutor.

When there is an option as to whether to apply an administrative pecuniary sanction or whether to prosecute criminally this will depend upon the circumstances of the case and the facts, as well as the outcome of the discussion between the AFM and the Public Prosecutor. The law does not provide for any mechanism to determine which route to take. However, there are some criteria drawn up by the Public Prosecutor and the AFM that are of influence in determining the choice between criminal or administrative sanctions, such as public interest, the severeness of the infringement, repetition of the same offense by the same person, disgorgement of profits, other criminal violations, etc. The penal sum can only be applied in cases where there is an ongoing breach of a stipulation that can be repaired by ways of imposing a penal sum.

		Criminal court exercises its competencies directly, it cannot delegate its authority. Criminal cases are represented by Public Prosecutor. Injured party may act beside the Prosecutor to support a case. The Chairman of the Commission is regarded as an injured party on every case referring to trading in public securities. It is up to the Chairman's discretion to exercise this power. It is quite similar with civil cases referring to trading in public securities.

General questions:

A. Please describe the interrelation of administrative and criminal procedure: Where applicable, please describe whether there is an option for imposing administrative measures and/or administrative sanctions or submission of the case to the public prosecutor and how it is exercised in practice. In addition please describe the possibility for applying for the same case both administrative measures/sanctions and criminal sanctions.

B. Please describe the criteria for imposing administrative and / or criminal sanctions: Where applicable, please specify the criteria for applying only administrative measures/sanctions, and/or referring the case to the public prosecutor.

Answers to question A and B.

The administrative and criminal procedures differ significantly. Polish Law separates appliance of the procedures in general, that is if a case is conducted under administrative procedure it cannot be criminal. There is no option to choose/change between procedures (if there is criminal authority to prosecute, there is no place for administrative authority). There are essential differences between procedures: The difference comes from a purpose it serves. Criminal Procedure (CP) is designed to protect society from unacceptable behavior while Administrative Procedure (AP) is design to govern legal interests in areas which require state intervention. As the result different general and specific principles govern the procedures. For instance: (1) CP presumes innocence while burden of prove is on accused party in AP; (2) standard of prove is beyond reasonable doubts in CP while it is preponderance of evidence in AP; (3) intention must be proved in CA but it is nor required in AP; (3) CA is contradictory (accused party, Prosecutor and Court) while AP is one party (accused) procedure and FSA.

General questions:

- A. Please describe the interrelation of administrative and criminal procedure: Where applicable, please describe whether there is an option for imposing administrative measures and/or administrative sanctions or submission of the case to the public prosecutor and how it is exercised in practice. In addition please describe the possibility for applying for the same case both administrative measures/ sanctions and criminal sanctions.

There is not much overlap between administrative and criminal infractions, since the market crimes (market manipulation and insider dealing) are applicable only to individuals acting with intent, the corresponding administrative infractions (misuse of inside information and violation of the duty to protect market integrity) are applicable both to individuals and legal persons acting with intent or negligence.

In the case of insider dealing, when the person involved and the facts may be covered by both provisions (an individual acting with intent), the securities code (article 420/2) states that only the criminal provision will be applied. So there is a legal rule and not an option of the regulator.

As far as market manipulation is concerned, the corresponding administrative infraction (violation of the duty to protect market integrity) is a specific infraction applied to financial intermediaries and market members, so there is not much room for overlap with the criminal provision, which is only applicable to individuals acting with intent. In exceptional cases, where both provisions would apply to an individual acting with intent (for instance, an employee of a financial intermediary), CMVM may decide not to pursue the administrative procedure, based in the ne bis in idem principle to the public prosecutor and how it is exercised in practice.

- B. Please describe the criteria for imposing administrative and / or criminal sanctions: Where applicable, please specify the criteria for applying only administrative measures/ sanctions, and/or referring the case to the public prosecutor.

General questions:

- A. Please describe the interrelation of administrative and criminal procedure: Where applicable, please describe whether there is an option for imposing administrative measures and/or administrative sanctions or submission of the case to the public prosecutor and how it is exercised in practice. In addition please describe the possibility for applying for the same case both administrative measures/sanctions and criminal sanctions.

The Romanian Capital Market Law does not provide an option for imposing administrative measures and/or administrative sanctions or submission of the case to the public prosecutor. According to its Statute, C.N.V.M. may apply administrative sanctions for the failure to comply with the laws governing the capital markets, as well as with its regulations, and the C.N.V.M. may also demand that the prosecution bodies be notified in the event that the perpetrated deed is considered to be a criminal offence according to the relevant regulations. As a consequence, it is possible to apply for the same case both administrative sanctions and criminal sanctions. In the case of the fine provided at art. 276 (c) of the Law, when the regulator has applied a contraventional fine and the law court decide that the criminal sanction shall be applied as a fine, the fine shall have a penal character and, by consequence, the contraventional fine could be revoked by the Court.

- B. Please describe the criteria for imposing administrative and / or criminal sanctions: Where applicable, please specify the criteria for applying only administrative measures/sanctions, and/or referring the case to the public prosecutor.

When customising the sanction, the personal and real circumstances of the deed and the conduct of the doer shall be taken into consideration. If an contravention is committed by a person repeatedly within a period of three years, or if the offence is committed by a person who has been sanctioned during the past three years, and the sanction has not been annulled yet, the sanction established shall be applied cumulatively with the maximum fine for the last offence committed. If two or more contravention are acknowledged, the highest penalty, increased by up to 50%, shall be applied, as the case may be.

General questions:

A. Please describe the interrelation of administrative and criminal procedure: Where applicable, please describe whether there is an option for imposing administrative measures and/or administrative sanctions or submission of the case to the public prosecutor and how it is exercised in practice. In addition please describe the possibility for applying for the same case both administrative measures/sanctions and criminal sanctions.

Generally the provisions of the ZTFI and related to it also the BANKING ACT must be followed when Agency performs supervision on the securities market. Whenever a violation of the law is established, supervisory measures provided for in the law must be decided. Whenever the law provides for administrative pecuniary sanction also this kind of sanction must be decided in a separate procedures (Article 569 and 571 of the ZTFI) by competent persons employed by the Agency for solely those purposes. Sanctions vary in terms of the fines decided and may also be only warnings in case violations are not material for the market. Only insider trading is considered a criminal act (not market manipulation) and it should be notified to the prosecutor. The court decides in accordance with procedures and sanctions of penal code.

B. Please describe the criteria for imposing administrative and / or criminal sanctions: Where applicable, please specify the criteria for applying only administrative measures/sanctions, and/or referring the case to the public prosecutor. please see under A above.

General questions:

- A. Please describe the interrelation of administrative and criminal procedure: Where applicable, please describe whether there is an option for imposing administrative measures and/or administrative sanctions or submission of the case to the public prosecutor and how it is exercised in practice. In addition please describe the possibility for applying for the same case both administrative measures/sanctions and criminal sanctions.

If in the course of a CNMV's investigation or during the institution of administrative proceedings a criminal matter arises, we are obliged to communicate this matter to the public attorney and the administrative proceeding must be suspended till the criminal proceeding ends. The CNMV is not part in the civil or criminal proceedings.

B. 3. Please describe the criteria for imposing administrative and / or criminal sanctions: Where applicable, please specify the criteria for applying only administrative measures/sanctions, and/or referring the case to the public prosecutor.

Since the administrative and the criminal offenses are different, it depends on whether the behaviour or the transactions meet the requirements of the criminal offense to be considered as such or if it only meets the requirements defined in the administrative offense.

General questions:

A. Please describe the interrelation of administrative and criminal procedure: Where applicable, please describe whether there is an option for imposing administrative measures and/or administrative sanctions or submission of the case to the public prosecutor and how it is exercised in practice. In addition please describe the possibility for applying for the same case both administrative measures/sanctions and criminal sanctions.

B. Please describe the criteria for imposing administrative and / or criminal sanctions: Where applicable, please specify the criteria for applying only administrative measures/sanctions, and/or referring the case to the public prosecutor.

Member State:UNITED KINGDOM – Financial Services Agency

In the United Kingdom, implementation of the Market Abuse Directive and related administrative measures and sanctions required amendments to the Financial Services and Markets Act 2000 and several parts of the Financial Services Authority's Handbook including sections on Conduct of Business, Market Conduct and the UK Listing Rules. For ease of reference, we are providing the following Explanatory Key to identify the various acronyms and define selected terms used in our response to the survey.

Explanatory Key: FSA - Financial Services Authority; FSMA - Financial Services and Markets Act 2000; CJA - Criminal Justice Act 1993; RDC - Regulatory Decisions Committee; FSMT - Financial Services and Markets Tribunal; DTR - Disclosure Rules and Transparency Rules; COB - Conduct of Business Rules (please note, new conduct of business rules will replace COB on 1/11/07; REC - Recognised Investment Exchanges and Recognised Clearing Houses sourcebook; SUP - Supervision Manual; Authorised Person - A firm authorised by the FSA to conduct certain regulated activities; Approved Person - an individual approved by the FSA to engage in certain controlled functions relating to regulated activities.

For the purposes of the FSA's response to this survey in accordance with the DG's requested protocol, the term Administrative Sanction refers only to pecuniary sanctions. The term Administrative Measure encompasses an array of regulatory tools including the remedies of injunctive relief, restitution, regulatory directions and similar methods of compelling or restraining certain activities including prohibition orders barring an individual from performing certain functions related to regulated activity and variation or withdrawal of approval, as well as public censure. A breach of the transposed provisions of the Market Abuse Directive could also be a contravention of one or more high level Principles and related rules applicable to authorised firms and approved persons, subject to administrative measures and sanction. While we are pleased to follow the protocol in this survey, in the UK the terms measure and sanction are used differently. A sanction implies both pecuniary and non-pecuniary disciplinary actions.

Please note, the FSA's Decision Procedure and Penalties Manual (DEPP) came into effect on 28th August 2007. DEPP replaced the Enforcement Manual and Decision Making Manual.

There will be a number of changes to UK legislation arising from implementation of MiFID, some of which may impact on aspects of the FSA's response to this questionnaire.

Under FSMA s. 96C, the FSA has the power to suspend or remove an instrument from trading for the purpose of protecting the interests of investors or the orderly functioning of the financial markets. As the competent listing authority, the FSA also has the power to suspend or discontinue the listing of a security.	The FSA issuer may refer the matter to the FSMT.	Same response as in Article 14(3), Art 12(2)(a). In the event an order under FSMA s. 380 is violated, the FSA may apply to the court and the FSA could impose a fine against the person for contempt.	FSA subject to a disciplinary decision of the FSA may refer that decision to the FSMT, which is entirely independent of the FSA, where the matter will be heard de novo.	In the event the order under FSMA s. 380 is violated, the FSA may refer the decision to the court and the court could impose a fine or imprisonment against the person for contempt.	Penalties are imposed by the court for contempt.
Art. 14(3) and 12 (2)(f) suspension trading.	As a practical matter, this is most often the measure employed in circumstances where the issuer has failed in its continuing obligations e.g., disclosure. In addition, under FSMA s. 380, upon application by the FSA or Secretary of State, a court may issue an order to enjoin a person from contravening a requirement imposed by or under FSMA.

General questions:

- A. Please describe the interrelation of administrative and criminal procedure: Where applicable, please describe whether there is an option for imposing administrative measures and/or administrative sanctions or submission of the case to the public prosecutor and how it is exercised in practice. In addition please describe the possibility for applying for the same case both administrative measures/sanctions and criminal sanctions.

The FSA can investigate criminal, civil, administrative and regulatory contraventions and take action by prosecuting criminal conduct or impose civil, administrative and regulatory measures and pecuniary sanctions. The FSA has a range of enforcement powers and, in any particular enforcement situation, the FSA may need to consider which power to use and whether to use one or more powers. For example, section 123 of FSMA gives the FSA the power to impose a financial penalty for market abuse or issue a public censure if it considers this administrative measure to be more appropriate under the circumstances. In addition, the FSA may apply to a court for an injunction under FSMA s 380 (contravention of a regulatory requirement) and s. 381 (injunction in cases of market abuse) to restrain or prohibit a person from engaging in misconduct or to remedy the contravention which could include an order to freeze assets which may be secured for disgorgement of profits and restitution to injured parties. The FSA's DEPP describes the the FSA's policies and procedures for the exercise of its powers under FSMA, discussed further in the answer to Question 2, below.

In addition the FSA may pursue prosecution of criminal offences under FSMA s. 397 and under Part V of the the Criminal Justice Act 1993, as provided by FSMA s. 402. In such cases, it will apply the basic principles set out in the Code for Crown Prosecutors, discussed further below in the answer to Question 2.

In cases where criminal proceedings have commenced or will be commenced, the FSA may consider whether also to take civil or regulatory action. That action might include injunctions, restitution, own-initiative action to vary or cancel permission of a firm to engage in regulated activities, and the withdrawal of approval of an individual to carry out functions in connection with regulated activities. The commencement of criminal proceedings against an individual will raise concerns in relation to that individual's fitness and propriety to perform functions in relation to regulated activities. The FSA may therefore consider making a prohibition order against him if the proceedings result in a criminal conviction.

When it decides whether to take civil or regulatory action where criminal proceedings are also in contemplation, the FSA will have regard to the following factors: (1) whether, in the FSA's opinion, the taking of civil or regulatory action might unfairly prejudice the prosecution, or proposed prosecution, of criminal offences; (2) whether, in the FSA's opinion, the taking of civil or regulatory action might unfairly prejudice the defendants in the criminal proceedings in the conduct of their defense; and (3) whether it is appropriate to take civil or regulatory action, having regard to the scope of the criminal proceedings and the powers available to the criminal courts.

- B. Please describe the criteria for imposing administrative and / or criminal sanctions: Where applicable, please specify the criteria for applying only administrative measures/sanctions, and/or referring the case to the public prosecutor.

If the decision is to impose an administrative measure or pecuniary penalty there are various lists of factors and criteria to which the FSA will consider in deciding the enforcement action. For example, the FSA is required under FSMA s. 124 to have a statement of policy with regard to the imposition of financial penalties for market abuse. The factors the FSA may consider in determining the amount of a penalty are published in DEPP. Included within the list of factors are the nature and seriousness of the misconduct, whether it was deliberate or reckless, the duration and frequency of the behavior, the impact on the prescribed market, the amount of profit or loss avoided and the risk posed to market users. In addition, the FSA views the primary purpose of financial penalties as deterrence so this is a significant consideration in arriving at the amount of the penalty. Given the wide range of enforcement tools available, in each case, the FSA must decide what would be an effective and proportionate action, appropriate to achieve its regulatory objectives of market confidence, public awareness, protection of consumers and the reduction of financial crime.

In addition the FSA may pursue prosecution of criminal offences under the Criminal Justice Act, as provided in FSMA s 402. When the FSA considers whether to bring criminal proceedings it will apply the basic principles set out in the Code for Crown Prosecutors. Under the Code, the FSA will in each case apply the Full Code Test: 1) whether there is sufficient evidence to provide a realistic prospect of conviction against the defendant on each criminal charge ('the evidential test'); and 2) having regard to the seriousness of the offence and all the circumstances, criminal prosecution is in the public interest ('the public interest test').
